

August 2021

Just a quick note to remind everyone that entries are due by Wednesday, August 25th @ 9 pm. If you are entering the Futurity class, please do so by texting Kim your entry.

The Futurity class will be held at the end of the day after all weekend classes are completed. It is a 3 show series and you must show all 3 times to be eligible for the Futurity buckle. The entry fee is $200, there are 3 cows per cutter and there is a jackpot. So for $200 you get 3 cows, chance at jackpot money and a chance at a really nice buckle. That's a lot of a $200 entry fee so if you have an eligible, enter with Kim.

I checked with Clint and the weather is going to cooperate and so long as the air quality isn't awful, we're good to go.

There will not be concessions so plan to bring your own lunch. Janie Larson advises there will be circuit awards to class winners.

You may or may not see me at the show as Greg & I continue to recover from COVID. Although we are no longer contagious and clear to go back out and rejoin society, it's not quite that easy. How I hate to miss our first ever little Futurity class but it is what it is.

We are going into the time of year when the cattle really start to get good with the cooler weather so plan to attend. We are quickly approaching the end of the season so take advantage of every opportunity to enjoy your saddle time.
